

Garments of Salvation

by Rabbi Shefa Gold

שׁוֹשׁ אֶשְׂיֵשׁ בִּיהוָה תִּגַּל נַפְשִׁי בְּאֱלֹהֵי
כִּי הִלְבִּישָׁנִי בְּגָדֵי-יֵשַׁע

Sos asis badonay tagayl nafshi belohai, ki hilbishani bigday yesha (Isaiah 61:10)

I will rejoice in God who has dressed me in the garments of Salvation.

The Prophet Isaiah compares us to the bridegroom and the bride, decked out in our finery, bejeweled and shining in glory. What if each morning we claimed our rightful place of dignity, splendor and brilliance? This is a practice of rejoicing in our inheritance. This is a practice of matching up our outer countenance with our royal inner radiance.
