

Romemu

רִמְמוּ יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ

Romemu YHVH (Havayah, Adonai, Shechina)

Elohaynu (Psalm 99:5)

Raise up the Truth; lift up our love; honor the God within us.

Fred Rogers favorite quote was from Saint-Exupery's The Little Prince. He had it framed and hanging on a wall in his office. "What is essential is invisible to the eyes."

When we exalt God in prayer, we are raising up, lifting up, and honoring that which is essential. Through our loving attention and passionate expression, we are making that essential spark of Divinity, visible and known. When we share that essential Divinity through prayer, it makes itself available to us as Truth and Love, so that we can live from the highest essence that is in us.
