

Come to the Feast!

Come to the Feast!

This banquet has been prepared especially for you.

Sit and settle down and look around.

You will see colors that sparkle, shapes that defy reason,

You will hear sounds that lure and enchant you.

You will smell fragrances that waft in from world to world,

Tickling memory, bringing visions,

You will taste the sweet and the bitter together,

Your tongue will curl around a texture so creamy, a taste so sharp

You will feel sorrow and joy in equal measure,

Your heart will break and be made whole.

Come to the Feast, feel invited, welcomed, encouraged,

Tantalized.