

After the Fire

וְאַחַר הָאֵשׁ קוֹל דְּמָמָה בְּקוֹה

V'achar ha'aysh, Kol D'mama Dakah

And after the fire—a soft murmuring sound (1st Kings 19:12)

With the prophet Elijah we enter the storm. Through the wind, and the earthquake and the fire, we journey and are awakened to full aliveness. We are broken open. And then, in the silence we listen.