

Hear My Song

שְׁמַעְנָה אֱלֹהִים רִנָּתִי

Shim'ah Elohim rinati; hakshivah t'filati

Hear my song, Oh God!

I will call to You from the ends of the Earth as my heart wraps itself in Your Love. *

(Psalm 61:2)

When I direct my song to God, and ask to be heard, I am praying that my separate unique and particular expression might be re-united with the Oneness. My song is a heartfelt yearning for harmonious connection with the cosmos.

*(This is a line from Reb Zalman Schachter-Shalomi's translation of Psalm 61)
