

Teach Me

לְמַדְנִי לַעֲשׂוֹת רְצוֹנְךָ

Teach me to do Your Will. (Psalm 143:10)

With this practice, I am asking for guidance. I have a deep yearning to be useful, and to know how my small part might fit into the whole of this Great Work of transformation. How do I enter the dance? What tiny yet unique part can I play in the vast symphony of Life? How can I harmonize my small will with the Great Will of the Divine unfolding through Creation?
